Namibian-born Fanie du Preez is the owner of Kuiseb Delta Adventures based in Walvis Bay. He's been guiding these unique quad bike tours, almost on a daily basis, for about 20 years. Little doubt, he knows the Kuiseb delta like no other and, although he's truly passionate about Namibia, he's even more knowledgeable about this unique part of the Namib desert. This historian tour has been the highlight of numerous visitors' holidays to Namibia, and it's going to do something sensational for you.

Walvis Bay is situated in the Kuiseb Delta of Namibia, on the Atlantic coastline of south-western Africa, where the big Sand Sea of Sossusvlei meets the Kuiseb River.

So nature lovers, come and experience the desert from a different perspective...on a fully automatic quad bike, suitable for riders with no previous experience, even children of 12 years and older, and strong healthy elderly people are very welcome. For children of four to 11 years old, they can double-ride with parents on a single quad bike. It matters not whether you are young or old, a novice or an expert rider, you're about to enjoy the most intriguing and unexpected edu-desert experience imaginable.

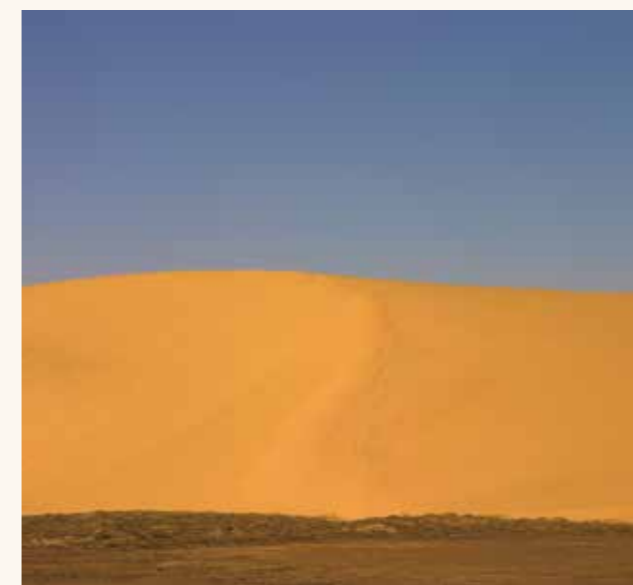

Kuiseb Delta Adventures' eco-friendly, educational desert tours is the only desert quad bike tour operator who can offer you this trip. As Fanie says, "Your group will be the only human beings in these dunes, except for the occasional Khoi/Topnaar who wander these dunes looking for the !Nara fruit. We have developed this unique tour over 22 years, and all are owner guided."

Kuiseb Delta Adventures has received TripAdvisor Certificates for six years in a row, and for two more, Certificates of Excellence - Hall of Fame. In 2020, TripAdvisor wrote "You are part of an exclusive group and a Travelers' Choice Winner, placing you in the top 10% of attractions worldwide." Consistently impressive.

The tour takes you into the pristine 'dune heart' of the Desert, the historic home of the ancient Khoi people. You'll see their old settlements, experience the 'living desert', see tracks of the desert elephant, perhaps an old human skeleton, the delta's golden dunes, an historic human footprint...as well as the desert chameleon. Fanie stresses that his operation is a highly environmentally conscious tour operator, and they monitor the area for illegal and harmful activities. They're also strongly safety conscious, and before departure, you'll be given thorough training on how to safely drive a quad in the dunes. Fanie's main priority is your safety, hence their safety record is impeccable. Tours are conducted in English, German and Afrikaans.

The tour is an unforgettable experience, one where you'll discover that there is life in the desert regions. Ample stoppages provides you with time to drink in the immense beauty of the dune desert, and to photograph to your heart's content.

The tours depart from the premises of Lagoon Chalets in Meersig, Walvis Bay. The chalets there offer a high standard camping site (well protected from the wind, and with electric connection points), and high grade affordable family holiday accommodation. Your vehicles are fully safe when you head off on your excursions.

And, of course, educational it is, but you'll have loads of fun, too! ❖
